JASK was created by Shaun Delaney, who has improved the original game, after developing it for his three wonderful daughters. The girl's inspiration and motivation over the years has been the driving force for JASK to be brought to shops for us all to share and enjoy! The name of the game comes from their names: Justine, Abby and Kerry, and of course, Shaun's.

JASK Changing

JASK evolved from holidays to Devon and Cornwall (where it rained quite a lot!). Shaun set tried to keep the girls busy and entertained, while at the same time trying to broaden their knowledge. He developed a way of mixing general trivia with more meaningful questions. The girls demanded 'Our quiz must be turned into a game!' So Shaun did! He invented a board with letters printed on each square. Then, he made a plan for how to use it, and how to make it fun competitive and educational!

JASK Scoring

Shaun invented a method of scoring .Firstly, to eliminate the element of luck when using a dice, but more importantly, to allow players of all ages to have an equal chance of winning. This makes JASK an ideal game for both adults and children, or for a mixed age group.

JASK is a dynamic game that can be played individually or in teams

At the start of the game, and each round, a card is selected. Players will have one or more counters placed on different letters on the board. All players/teams have one minute to think of as many answers for the chosen question using a letter on which one of their counters is placed.

Of the 64 question cards, categories include:

- European Cities
- Brand Names
- Differently spelt words that sound the same - homophones (e.g. sea and see)
- Animals
- Television or radio personalities (e.g. Terry Wogan)

Answers are scored, allowing each player to move their counters towards their home. Strategic moves can knock players' counters off and back to the start. The first player to get all their counters home is the winner!

JASK is a fantastic fun and challenging game for all ages. It is ideal for:

- Quizzes
- Parties
- Family time (holidays, Christmas)
- Playtime
- Schools

JASK is an exciting game that is great for everyone! The questions can be answered by all players of different ages, now and in the future.
