

Water Refraction Science Experiment

What you need:

- Water
- Jar or glass
- A paper with a design on it.

Put arrows on wall and a glass jar in front of them

Looking through from the front

Then add the water to the jar

Questions

What happens when you pour water into the glass?

Why do you think this happens?

Does it make a difference how close the water is to the paper?

