Book of the Week!

Our book of the week is going to be:
Families, families, families by Suzanne and Max Lang!

Look out for your virtual learning link to join in our with book talk this week!

Our family are very special. Write a letter to someone in your family - either someone you see often or maybe send a letter to someone you haven't seen in a while? They would definitely appreciate it.

Write a song for your family about how much you love them and perform it!

Science

Sometimes in our family we have some similarities and some differences. Do you have the same colour eyes as your Mum? Do you have the same size nose as your Dad?

Label the body parts in the picture and write if anything is similar to someone in your family. Even label a picture! What did your family look like as babies?

Maths

How many people are there in your family that live in your house? How does that compare to the other people who you are related to?

Count how many people are in your Mum's family and how many are in your Dad's family. Add them all together - how many people are there altogether in your family?

Home Learning Theme - My Family!

Art / DT

Create a family portrait of your family who live in your home. You don't have to draw or paint it - maybe you could create a stick family?

Is your pet someone you would consider a part of your family? See if you can draw a picture of them or try and recreate their paw prints using your fingers. What shapes can you make just using your finger tips?

Cut out some hearts out of paper, colour them in and hide them under your family's pillow as a surprise. They'll love it.

Key Vocabulary

Create a glossary of words that you have used across all of the different learning tasks. A glossary is a list of words in alphabetical order with definitions.

Add this to the glossary you have been making each week.

PE

Create a silly dance routine to your favourite song for your family! Can you video them dancing along and share it on the homelearning@monks.org.uk email?

RE

In the Hindu religion, family is extremely important. Read through the PowerPoint about the Hindu beliefs and create some Mehndi patterns using the templates, just like they would have done for members of their family.

Phonics

Use your Phonics' Phase booklet to keep your knowledge fresh! Don't forget those alien words and share your learning with your family!

History

Genealogy is a word used to describe studying your family history. Have a go at creating your family tree using the template provided. You will find that talking to members of your family will help!

Geography

Talk to your family about your Family history. Are all of your family from the UK? Do you have any family members that are living in another country? Get in touch with them and see if they can send you a photo from their country.
