Job Description - Advert

What does the queen do? Imagine if you could apply for the job to be queen or king! In an advert for a job, there is a job description. This tells you what your responsibilities will be and says what you need to have if you want to apply for the job (certificates, skills or type of personality). What would be in the job description for a new king or queen? Use this website to learn about the key roles of a monarch:

<http://projectbritain.com/royal/role.htm>

Write them in the form of a fun job description! Remember, the purpose of an advert is to inform and persuade. Who is your audience? Additional resources on Google Classroom too.

Speech

You got the job! Congratulations! You are now the king or queen of England! One of your important duties, as the new ruler, is to make a speech to your country. How will you tell everyone what your great plans and new rules are? Art/DT

Illuminated Letters

In Medieval times, all books were written and decorated by hand, usually by priests and monks (there were no computers!) They were very precious works of art, and you had to be extremely skilled to produce them. Monarchs were often drawn within the letters – they were called 'illuminated' because the letters and pictures were often decorated with gold and silver leaf. Look at the attached examples and design your own illuminated letter!

Coat of Arms

A coat of arms is the symbol or badge of a family, person or an organisation, like a school. They have symbols and colours that mean different things. Watch this video to learn a little more: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=urS_sIZWIws Design a coat of arms for your family! Use the attached document to help you. Don't forget to share your work with us on Google Classrooms – we would love to see your designs!

Science

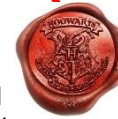

Wax Seal

Wax was originally used by kings and queens to seal letters. Using a wax seal also showed that the letter had not been read or tampered with. They would melt wax and let it drip onto the paper. Whilst it was still soft, a ring or stamp with a royal emblem on, was pressed into the wax to leave a mark. This showed the person who received the letter who it had come from! Look at the attached examples – you might recognise a few of them!

Draw and write a storyboard to explain the process of turning a solid into a liquid! Use this link to help you:

Roman Numerals

Monarchs are usually numbered in Roman - e.g. King Edward VII of England. Create a poster to show what the different Roman Numerals represent. Answer the 'Roman Numerals Mosaic' questions. Choose your level: spicy, hot or chili!

BODMAS

If 94 is the answer, what is the question? Queen Elizabeth II is 94 years old. She is the oldest monarch to have reigned in Britain! How many different ways can you make the number 94? E.g. $9^2 + 13 = 94$. Use your knowledge of BODMAS to create your questions! Follow this link to help you:

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/topics/z69k7ty/articles/z24ctv4>

Chili: make your own: 'If ___ is the answer, what is the question? Can you link the number to kings and queens?'

RE

Values & Symbols

If you were to be king or queen of our country, what values would you have and why? What rules would you create? Can you draw symbols to represent your own values?

Home Learning Y5/6 Theme:

Kings and Queens!

Key Vocabulary

What makes a king or queen a good leader?

Write a list of qualities that you think are important for a king or a queen to have.

Do you think all kings and queens in history have shown these qualities or values?

Chili: Find the antonyms for the qualities you have listed! (Antonyms are words which have opposite meanings, e.g. the antonym for happy is sad!)

History/Geography

Tower of London

Mighty fortress. Royal palace. Infamous prison.

What is the Tower of London? Where is it located? Why do you think it was built here? Create a leaflet to show your research about the Tower of London! What sub headings will you have? Can you include pictures and captions? Use this link to help you: <https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/topics/zkqcmw/articles/zriqpq8>

Timeline – British Monarchy

Research the kings and queens of Britain, start with Queen Elizabeth II and work your way backwards! Who was queen or king before Queen Elizabeth II? How long did they reign for? Chili: you could create a family tree for Queen Elizabeth II. Who is next in line to the throne? Who is second in line?
